Blended family genogram

Blended family genogram sheet. Symbols follow McGoldrick, Gerson and Petry (2020).

Earlier partners. Draw each former partner on the far side of the parent, so that no couple line crosses another. Two slashes on a couple line record a divorce.

Children. Hang each child from the couple who are the parents, oldest on the left. Redraw the outline around the people who live together, and add a second outline where children share their time between two homes.

Step lines. Draw a dashed line from the remarriage to each step-child, a little below the sibling bar. Write the year the family began to live together on the couple line.
