The War of the Roses family tree, Lancaster, York and Tudor

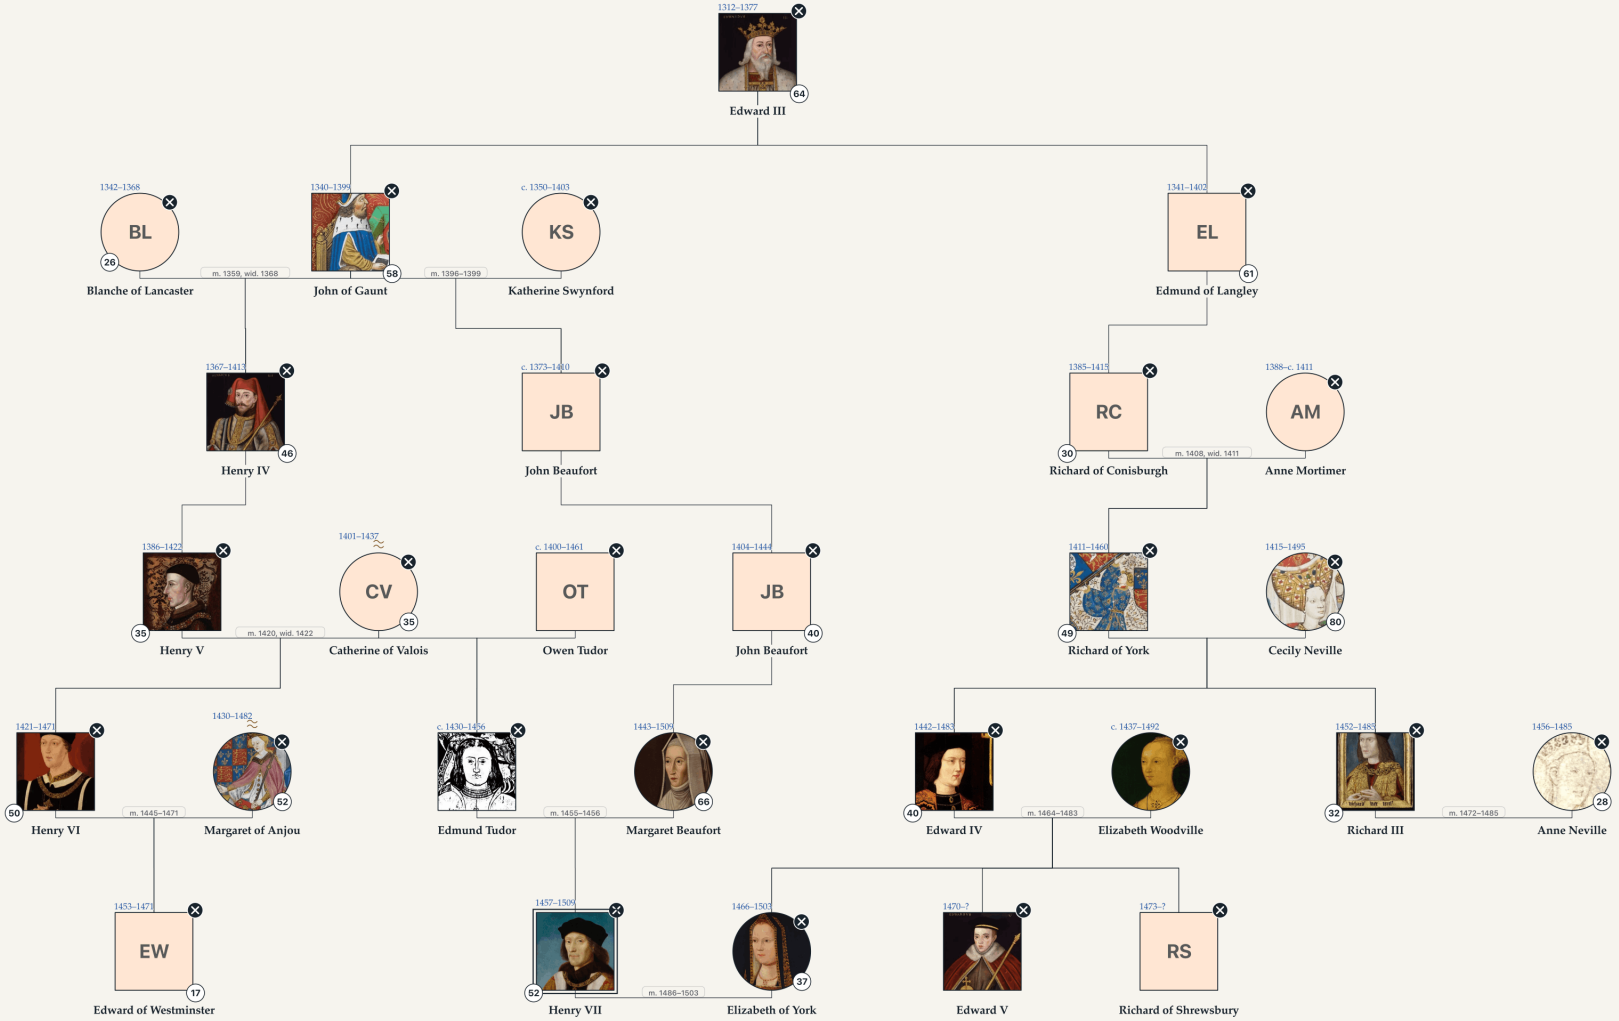

Photo credits

Edward III. One of a set of royal portraits painted about 1597 to 1618, long after the sitter's death. Unknown author. Public domain, Wikimedia Commons.

John of Gaunt. Manuscript miniature made about a century after his death. Workshop of the Chroniques d'Angleterre, late 15th century. Public domain, Wikimedia Commons.

Henry IV. One of a set of royal portraits painted about 1597 to 1618, long after the sitter's death. anonymous. Public domain, Wikimedia Commons.

Henry V. Painted in the sixteenth century, after an earlier portrait. anonymous, 16th century. Public domain, Wikimedia Commons.

Henry VI. Painted about 1540, after his death. anonymous, about 1540. Public domain, Wikimedia Commons.

Margaret of Anjou. Miniature in the Talbot Shrewsbury Book, given to her on her marriage. Talbot Master, about 1445. Public domain, Wikimedia Commons.

Richard of York. Miniature in the Talbot Shrewsbury Book. Talbot Master, 1443 to 1445. Public domain, Wikimedia Commons.

Cecily Neville. Miniature in the Neville Book of Hours, traditionally identified as her. Master of the Munich Golden Legend, about 1430. Public domain, Wikimedia Commons.

Richard III. Painted in the 1520s, after an earlier portrait. Unknown author, 1520s. Public domain, Wikimedia Commons.

Anne Neville. Drawing in the Rous Roll. John Rous, about 1483. Public domain, Wikimedia Commons.

Edward V. One of a set of royal portraits painted about 1597 to 1618, long after the sitter's death. Unknown author. Public domain, Wikimedia Commons.

Margaret Beaufort. Painted 1650 to 1700 after a sixteenth-century portrait. Unidentified painter. Public domain, Wikimedia Commons.

Edward IV. Lucas Horenbout, 1520. Public domain, Wikimedia Commons.

Elizabeth Woodville. Painted after her death. British School, 1613 to 1630. Public domain, Wikimedia Commons.

Henry VII. anonymous, 1505. Public domain, Wikimedia Commons.

Elizabeth of York. After Meynnart Wewyck, 1550. Public domain, Wikimedia Commons.

Edmund Tudor. Rubbing of his tomb brass at St Davids Cathedral, a Victorian replacement, not a likeness from life. Unknown author. CC0, Wikimedia Commons.

Sources of the family facts

The Royal Family, Henry IV; The Royal Family, Henry V; The Royal Family, Henry VI; The Royal Family, Edward IV; The Royal Family, Edward V; The Royal Family, Richard III; The Royal Family, Henry VII; Wars of the Roses, Wikipedia; Wikipedia articles on each person, cited in the record.